SHOPMEN ALONE IN STRIKE, OTHERS TO REMAIN ON JOBS

MAINTENANCE OF WAY MEN ABANDON IDEA OF WALKOUT.

"UNDER PROTEST"

St. Paul Strikers Given Until July 10 Before Forfeiting Seniority Rights.

Chicago.—Striking railway shopmen who walked out in answer to the nation wide call from the headquarters of the shop craft unions here last Saturday, were reported by the roads as drifting back to work today in groups of uncertain size. They were considered the advance guard of the strike. Although responding generally to the call last Saturday, railroad officials insist many of the decisions of the men to take a holiday over the Fourth of July. Local union reports to the office of J. M. Jewell, head of the shopmen, returned that the strike was 100 percent effective at all points reporting.

Chicago.—Railway shopmen who walked off their jobs last Saturday played a lone hand in the rail strike Wednesday. Fears that other unions would join the striking shopmen were virtually dispelled.

The first wide rift in railroad strike clouds showed Tuesday when maintenance of way employees, who include the truck workers and other common labor, definitely abandoned the idea of a walk out at this time.

As a result of the holiday conference, nearly 400,000 maintenance of way men, who for a week hovered on the verge of a strike after voting overwhelmingly in favor of a walk out, will remain at work.

Present Wage Cut.
Maintenance men will stay on the job "under protest" against the 300,000 cut in their wages. Seniority rights for a readjustment of wages were a point of appeal by the employees.

With their common labor problem out of the way, railroad officials throughout the country were waiting Wednesday for the first definite disclosure of the effect of the shopmen's strike. Over Sunday and Tuesday's holiday, rail officials said, many employees of the six shop crafts had actually responded to Saturday's strike order. When the whistle blew Wednesday morning, the railroads began an inventory of the strike situation. Local officials predicted that other classes of railway labor would become inoculated by the shopmen's strike and that the effect of the walk out would begin to show on transportation soon.

Given Until July 10.
Striking shopmen of the C. & St. P. and the Burlington have been given until July 10 to return to work. After that date, according to the railroads' policy, the strikers will forfeit all seniority rights, and if later reemployed, will be taken as new employees.

Reports of violence or disorders in connection with the strike are few and scattered. J. L. McCollin, road master of the Kansas City Southern at DeQuincy, La., reported he had been attacked and beaten by a mob of 100 men who had come to the Louisville and Nashville railroad at New Orleans and beaten by three men when he refused to leave his post.

First Soviet Loan Success, Says Official.
Moscow.—The Soviet government's first international loan is a success, according to a Russian newspaper, the ten million pound loan having already been subscribed. Although exact figures are not yet known, it appears that the loan has been directly subscribed 4,000,000 pounds, the workers 3,000,000, and stock institutions 3,000,000.

Russian 3 1/2 per cent according to London estimates will reach a minimum of 2,500,000,000 pounds (63,000 tons) of last year, and Premier Kamenev, today, said the loan was as expected, it will be Russia's biggest crop since the war.

Business Opportunity

Often times, what is one person's loss is another's gain. The man who may be in the form of a sacrifice in the ownership of property, or a business of some kind, or it may be in the form of financial holdings to some money making corporation such as a bank, telephone, railroad, or steamship company or possibly a building does take place every day and every hour in the day. It is in connection with these affairs that your daily news paper plays an important part. Turn to the Want Ad Page any day and read the ads in the "Business Opportunity" column. We herewith give a reprint of just one item that came to our attention because of the successful outcome of the deal. It is only necessary to say that a buyer was secured within three days.

THOUSANDS JOIN IN CELEBRATIONS AT MANY POINTS

LOCAL OBSERVANCE OF 4TH AT RIVERSIDE IS SUCCESS.

MANY ON TRIPS

Tourist Travel Is Heavy—Many at Whitewater and Delavan.

Great celebrations in Southern Wisconsin towns and the greatest day for automobile traffic this year, featured the celebration of Independence day. A steady stream of cars bearing thousands of people came through Janesville from the northwest and in all directions, and bearing camp paraphernalia and a sideboard of food. The parade started at daybreak and continued until midnight. Included in the "motorists" were hundreds of Janesville parties who transferred their residence for the day to the parks and resorts and amusement parks in Illinois and Wisconsin. Auxiliaries to the automobile in the transportation problem were the railroads and interurbans who enjoyed an extra large amount of business.

It was a quiet Fourth in Janesville, devoid of any great display, but with an attraction for most everyone. At Riverside the celebration, under the auspices of the River City band and the Riverside Golf and Country Club, was very successful with hundreds of family picnic parties. The prize cake was won by Mrs. R. O. Wright, Western avenue. The band furnished music throughout the day and the concessions were conducted by wives of band members. Roller skating and dancing was enjoyed.

Few fireworks here. The usual amount of fireworks here, most of the heavier noise having been eliminated through the work of the inspectors. The number of minor accidents were therefore greatly reduced. Several minor auto accidents occurred but the number was small in comparison with the procession of automobiles on the highways. With the heavy holiday traffic, the roads are dusty and on some of the main trunk routes, automobile travel through a dust storm rivaling anything seen in the West.

4,000 at Whitewater.
The celebrations given in other cities in this section of the country rivalled in grandeur anything seen in Janesville. At Whitewater, where the celebration was the most successful, a crowd estimated at between 5,000 and 6,000. Two thousand automobiles were parked in and around the town. Some of the most beautiful floats ever seen in this section participated in the parade. In the morning, nearly every merchant and organization in Whitewater and some from the surrounding towns, entered the parade. Part of the parade showed the development of fire fighting apparatus. The oldest piece was a hand pumper from Harvard which was used to pump considerable water into the parade. Part of the parade showed the development of fire fighting apparatus. ## Expert to Aid in War Against Crop Diseases

R. E. Vaughan, plant pathologist from the Wisconsin College of Agriculture and Forestry, will conduct a number of investigations in Rock county Thursday and Friday. He will be assisted by a local farmer having troublesome cases which would call the county agent early Thursday and we will attempt to visit all farmers where there is much of the clover in Rock county is covered with a fine, white coating of mildew, declared to be caused by dry weather. Vaughan declared that the mildew does not harm the clover except to make it dusty for feeding. Rust is apparent in spring wheat. Rain is needed for all crops.

Despite dry weather, good conditions in Rock county are favorable. Much rye and wheat is in the shock and the crops headed out well with good quality and yield. Corn never looked better at this time of year. The only trouble is only fair and many farmers are encountering trouble in obtaining sufficient help.

Senator Lenroot Attacks Excessive Tariff Duties and Warns Senators

Washington.—Majority leaders in charge of the tariff bill were warned Wednesday in the senate by Senator Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin, a leader of the progress group, that unless some of the high duties provided in the tariff bill were brought down to within reason, "he would reserve the right to vote against the measure."

Senator Lenroot's announcement came at the close of an address opposing the duty of 12 cents a pound on unshelled almonds, which he declared to be unjustified on showing both of Senators Johnson and McKerrrow, republicans, California, and of the Almond Growers' association of California in favor of the rate.

"I want to resolve all doubts in favor of this bill," Senator Lenroot said. "But if such rates as this are to be voted into this bill to my great extent, I want to say, I will not vote for it."

The Wisconsin senator said he was in favor of protection, but added that he had no sympathy with the system that seems to prevent here that a senator's state demand for protection. The existing tariff duties, that senator can go and ask for and receive those duties and then, because of the international relationship, throughout the bill, that senator will vote for every increase proposed.

Senator Johnson, in a very reply to the Wisconsin senator, declared he was casting his vote as between the almond growers, who were selling at a loss, and candy manufacturers, who making 200 percent profits and fighting the rate on almonds.

The committee amendment carrying the 15 cents a pound rate on almonds finally was approved 39 to 15. Two republicans, LaFollette and Lenroot, voted against it, and three democrats, Ashurst, Brossard and Kendrick, supported it. An amendment by Senator Walsh, democratic, Massachusetts, to make the rate six cents a pound, was rejected, 41 to 17. Senator LaFollette was the only republican to support it, while two democrats, Ashurst and Kendrick, voted against it.

Madison.—The Standard Oil company of Indiana, ordered recently by the Wisconsin department of markets to discontinue a rebate practice in the sale of gasoline to certain dealers, has asked the state court to order the termination of a practice which is generally used by a concern doing an inter-state business, that of selling its product to certain dealers cheaper than to others under what are termed as agency contracts.

Involved in the action is the authority of a state trade commission to order the termination of a practice which is generally used by a concern doing an inter-state business, that of selling its product to certain dealers cheaper than to others under what are termed as agency contracts.

Unfair Competition.—The Wisconsin department has decided that by selling gasoline to certain Wisconsin dealers one cent cheaper than to others, the Standard Oil company is engaging in an unfair trade practice to stifle competition.

Its order directing that the practice be stopped resulted in the Standard Oil company asking the state court to order the termination of a practice which is generally used by a concern doing an inter-state business, that of selling its product to certain dealers cheaper than to others under what are termed as agency contracts.

At Monday's hearing before Judge E. J. Stevens of the Dane county circuit court, a preliminary hearing on legal points involved in the action will be held. A postponement of the hearing to a later date is expected to be made by the court after hearing arguments of the Standard Oil company and the Wisconsin department of markets.

Should the court uphold constitutionality of the trade commission features of the Wisconsin market law, the law will be applied to the 1921 legislation creating the department of markets, the trial will be confined to the question whether the Standard Oil company is violating the law by selling its product to certain dealers cheaper than to others under what are termed as agency contracts.

The state department of markets has held that the practice of the Standard Oil company is an unfair trade practice which it ordered discontinued.

First Action Brought.—This is the first action commenced against the department by any agency. Alvin C. Reis, attorney for the department of markets, expects that the present case will be heard in an effort of the Standard Oil company to have the law held unconstitutional and its trade commission features nullified by court order.

A general order against rebating applied to all oil companies of the state has not been contested by them.

CHANGES PROVIDED IN CONSTITUTION

Voters of State to Pass on Five Amendments at Election.

(By Associated Press.)

Madison, Wis.—The changes that will be made in Wisconsin's constitution should the people ratify amendments that will be submitted to them at the November general election were outlined today by P. E. Baum, assistant attorney general, for Elmer S. Hall, secretary of state.

Five proposed amendments have been favorably acted on in the past two sessions of the legislature, three of which are without question to be submitted to the people for ratification or rejection, while one is now before the supreme court and another before the attorney general for interpretation.

The first amendment to be submitted provides that the legislature will have the power to establish by law that in civil law cases the notes of a specified number of a jury, less than all, but not less than five-sixths shall be sufficient for a valid verdict. Now a unanimous verdict is required in both civil and criminal cases.

Permission to sheriffs to succeed themselves in office is granted by the second amendment to be submitted. At the present time a sheriff is not allowed to run for reelection until after another has been in office for at least one term.

Under a third proposed amendment, cities and other municipalities would be authorized to incur an indebtedness for internal improvements in excess of the five per cent limit now imposed by the constitution. The indebtedness should the amendment be accepted could extend to 10 per cent of the assessed value of the city property, five per cent of which might be used for the purchase and operation of street car lines.

Home Rule Provision.—The home rule amendment which is now before the supreme court, extends to all cities and villages the power to determine their local affairs and government in all matters not prohibited by the constitution or by such enactments of the legislature of statewide concern as shall with uniformity affect every city or village, and it will not be competent for the legislature to pass special laws affecting a particular village or city and not others. There is a question whether this amendment may be submitted at the November election which the court is to decide.

The fifth proposed amendment would permit the legislature to increase the governor's salary to over $20,000. This amendment is before the supreme court and is expected to be decided before the coming election.

THOUSANDS JOIN

and contests and a water fight. In the evening a sham battle with two tanks from the 32nd division tank corps from Janesville taking part was held with large fireworks display.

Crowds at Delavan.

Ten thousand people were at the Tilden farm near Delavan Tuesday where the annual picnic under the auspices of the Watertown Federated clubs was held. Rev. W. T. Dorward, Presbyterian pastor of Milwaukee, gave a brilliant address. A great program of music was given by the Holy Trinity choir throughout the day.

Robert Danley, of Deloit, sang several songs and led the community singing. Brandy Knitting Mills nine of Delavan defeated Lake Geneva 5-2. Considerable interest in the contests and games was shown.

The baseball games between the Crescents and the Janesville Black Cats was the drawing attraction at the celebration at Millon village grounds. Contests for children were held with prizes being donated by merchants, Jefferson, Fort Atkinson, Geneva Junction, Burlington, and East Troy had celebrations which were attended by those living in the surrounding territory.

Muny At Resorts.

Hotel resorts at Lake Geneva, Delavan, Lauderdale, Como, Koshongong,

Kozonsa and others in this section were filled to overflowing over the four days which closed on Tuesday. Chicago, Milwaukee and Rockford people composed the majority at these places. At Waton Lake near Lake Geneva the Fourth marked the opening of a new golf course fostered by a new golf course fostered by Ralph Stinson, Chicago millionaire.

The celebration at Edgerton centered around the opening of the newly constructed country club.

For those living in the northern section of Jefferson and the southern section of Dodge counties, the homecoming celebration at Watertown the past three days was the one attraction of the Fourth. A comic and farce parade was held in the morning, and a mounted contest between Troop D of Watertown and Troop F of Fort Atkinson. Daylight fireworks displays were shown. In the evening a great illuminated Rock and Industrial parade was staged with more than 200 floats participating. Music was given by three bands.

Amusement parks and beaches along Rock river were crowded by the holiday crowds. The Rockford and Janesville companies were forced to put on an extra car toward midnight to bring back to Janesville the crowd which attended the celebration at the central Park grounds. A wonderful fireworks display was held. At Waverly and Eastford's beach and Yost's park there were many picnic parties. Large trucks of Janesville concerns were used to transport large crowds.

BY FRANK SINGLIER

POSITIVE proof that the mid-west professional baseball league is a business institution was shown Tuesday when the first game was played between the Beloit Braves and the Janesville Cubs. The game was a real battle, with the Braves winning by a score of 10 to 7. The game was played at the Janesville stadium, and was a real treat for the fans. The Braves were led by their pitcher, and the Cubs were led by their pitcher. The game was a real battle, and the Braves won by a score of 10 to 7.

BASEBALL river swim, water polo and golf—all were on Tuesday's short program for Janesville. Not so bad, eh? Then include all the picnic and outings. The fourth of July is the greatest outdoor day of the year. Show us one other in which so many take wholehearted part.

RUTH appears to be getting his stride. He is not done by any means. Just as soon as he gets all the "key-sidings" out of his system, he will be shooting the oars over the garden wall. Then watch the delectable public hail him as king.

AN EASTERN writer raves and raves about the kids. It doesn't look like it out this way. Give a youngster a lot of a playground, a bat and a ball and he will play the great American pastime. Give him a tennis racket or a golf club and he will not know what to do with it. Baseball is the game of the people because it is cheap and draws the gang—the real boy spirit.

JUST as predicted, Benny Leonard had an easy win over Rocky Kansas. It is a good thing to remember in the light game, that the man who is the underdog, rarely wins except by a stroke of good fortune with a wild hunch. Leonard is the greatest lightweight of all time.

Charles Sweet won Edward's stake for 235 paces at North Randall, Cleveland.

Spill Dancer, Chicago, broke four world's swimming records at Brighton Beach.

Jimmy Murphy won 250-mile speed-way classic at Tacoma, Wash.

Eight Results: Benny Leonard beat Rocky Kansas (8); Al Volpert, brother of Ed, former Janesville champion, drew (8); Harold Smith, Chicago, showed Jimmy Kelly Chicago and Dennis O'Keefe, Chicago, knocked out Eddie Welsh, South Bend, (2), all at Michigan City; Bill Brennan knocked out Bob Martin at Ashland, Ky. (12).

Mirebrand won Independence day handicap at Lacombe.

Knobbie won 24th Carter Handicap at Aqueduct.

Paul Costello set new record in winning seniors' sculls race in seven minutes, 1 1/2 seconds at Philadelphia.

Goldie Rapp's great son, starting a double play with knees loaded, checked Boston Braves and gave Philadelphia win—Four Brewer twirlers were slaughtered and Kansas City took two—Detroit divided with Pirates, losing in morning, 3-2, and winning in afternoon, 5-4.

"Toggy" world's champion speed boat, 7-5 class, overhauled in Mississippi valley regatta at Peoria and rank.

Charles Paddock made five new swimming records at 10, 20, 30, 125 and 175 yards and equalled mark for 100 at Santa Barbara.

Arm Broken, Kansas Fights 5 More Rounds; Benny Wins

Michigan City, Ind.—Though his arm was broken in the third trying to execute a chop, Rocky Kansas battled for five more rounds against Champion Benny Leonard here Tuesday afternoon before his seconds threw in a dripping sponge to save him from being battered to a pulp. It was a remarkable exhibition of nerves for even when his helpers saved him from further punishment, he turned on them in an effort to be released.

Check of the attendance revealed that the crowd was just above 10,000 with receipts of $20,800. While no official announcement was made, it was reported Leonard got $25,000 for scoring his 8 round technical knock out over the Buffalo challenger and Kansas received $15,000.

Leonard with Billy Gibson, his manager, left Wednesday for New York to prepare for his championship encounter with Lew Tendler, the Philadelphia lightweight to be decided at Jersey City, N. J., July 27.

Kansas, badly upset by his defeat, will return home Wednesday night. He planned to have an X-ray picture made of his broken arm. The arm was encased in splints after two physicians examined the injury, said to have been suffered in the third round when Kansas blocked a fast right hand chop by Leonard.

Kansas, bleeding and groggy from a series of wicked hooks to the jaw, was helpless before Leonard. His arms were hanging and he was not capable of defending himself. It was only a question of Leonard hitting him a solid smash to send him to the mat but the sponge fell into the ring without a knockdown having been scored.

Promoter Fitzsimmons plans to stage a lightweight championship contest between Harry Greb of Pittsburgh and Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul August 5 when the Indiana State convention of Elks will be held here.

Ralph Penburn, Los Angeles, won 356 mile national motorcycle race from field of 15 at Wichita, Kas.

Mrs. Melia Bjursted Mallory, woman's net champion, defeated Mrs. Edington at Wimbledon.

SHOPMEN ALONE IN STRIKE; OTHERS TO REMAIN ON JOBS

"UNDER PROTEST" St. Paul Strikers Given Until July 10 Before Forfeiting Seniority Rights.

Chicago.—Striking railway shopmen who walked out in answer to the nation-wide call from the headquarters of the St. Paul strikers here last Saturday, were reported by work roads as drifting back to work today in groups of five or six. Today was considered the turning point in the strike. Although responding generally to the call last Saturday, railroad officials insist that the shopmen were due to the desire of the men to take a holiday over the Fourth of July. Local union reports to the office of H. M. Jewell, head of the shopmen's union, indicated that the strike was 100 percent effective at all points reporting.

Chicago.—Railway shopmen who walked out of their jobs last Saturday played a lone hand in the rail strike Wednesday. Fears that other unions would join the striking shopmen were virtually dispelled.

The first wide rift in railroad strike clouds showed Tuesday when maintenance of way employees, who include the track workers and other common labor, definitely abandoned the idea of a walk out at this time.

As a result of the holiday conference, nearly 400,000 maintenance of way men, who for a week hovered on the verge of a strike after voting overwhelmingly in favor of a walk out will remain at work.

Protest Wage Cut. Maintenance men will stay on the job "under protest" against the $50,000 cut in their wages pending negotiations for a readjustment of wage scales upon an appeal by the employees.

With their common labor problem out of the way, railroad officials throughout the country were waiting Wednesday for the first definite disclosure of the effect of the shopmen's holiday. Over Sunday and Tuesday's holiday, rail officials said it was impossible to determine to what extent the strike would be maintained. The union officials, however, said that other classes of railway labor would become incited by the shopmen's strike and that the effect of the walk-out would begin to show on transportation.

Given Until July 10. Striking shopmen of the C. M. & St. P. and the Burlington have been given until July 10 to return to work. After that date, according to the railroads, the strikers will forfeit all seniority rights, and, if later reemployed, will be taken as new employees.

Reports of violence or disorders in connection with the strike were few and scattered. J. L. McCollin, road master of the Kansas City Southern at DeQuincy, La., reported he had been attacked and beaten Sunday.

A mob of 100 men, some of whom were armed, broke into the New Orleans and Nashville railroad at New Orleans was beaten by three men when he refused to leave his post.

First Soviet Loan Success, Says Official Moscow.—The Soviet government's first attempt to raise a loan is a success, according to a Russian newspaper, the ten million pound loan having already been subscribed. Although exact figures in the press are lacking, it appears that the loan has been subscribed for 4,000,000 pounds, the workers 2,000,000 and state institutions 2,000,000.

Russia's 1922 grain crops according to present estimates will reach a minimum of 3,000,000,000 pounds (50,000 tons) or of last year, acting Premier Kraminoff, told the correspondents Wednesday. The yield is as large as expected, it will be Russia's biggest crop since the war.

Business Opportunity Often times, what is one person's loss in another's gain. The same may be said in the form of a loan in the ownership of property, or a business of some kind, or it may be in the form of financial holding in some money-making corporation such as a bank, telephone, railroad, or steamship company or possibly right-of-way mortgages and bonds. Transfer of ownership of such things does take place every day and every hour in the day.

It is in connection with these affairs that your daily news paper plays an important part. To be in the Want Ad Page any day and read the ads in the "Business Opportunity" column. ## ILLINOIS TO COAST ON FOOT TO REDUCE; ABANDONS 81 POUNDS

[By Associated Press.] Los Angeles.—When Frank Meek of Danville, Ill., left that city for Los Angeles he weighed 305 pounds. When he reached Los Angeles he weighed 224 pounds. He walked all the way. He declares he is the only man to walk across the Mohave desert without carrying a supply of water. He says a cross country hike beats Turkish baths as a weight reducer. He had hoped to lose only 75 pounds when he started on the trek, but then there was the Mohave desert to cross. He intends to start back to Danville immediately by train.

WOMAN, 38, HIT BY TRAIN, NEAR DEATH

Struck While Picking up Coal Along C. & N. W. Right-of-Way.

Struck by a southbound Chicago & Northwestern passenger train near the Galena street viaduct here early Wednesday morning, Mrs. Emily Corbett, 38, of 214 South Paul street, was so badly injured that it is believed she will not recover. She is suffering from severe frontal scalp wounds, concussion of the brain, abrasion of the right side of her face, and contusions of left shoulder and both knees and legs. The fact that she is about to give birth to a child adds to the seriousness of her condition.

Was Picking Up Coal. The accident occurred at 5:25 a. m. while Mrs. Corbett was picking up coal along the Northwestern right-of-way, this being the second time she had tried this method of gathering fuel. Apparently she was facing south and so intent in her work that she did not hear the approach of train No. 214 due out of here at 5:30 a. m.

The train was in charge of Conductor J. J. Kiefer and Engineer Purcell.

Taken to Hospital. Engineer Purcell was the only witness to the accident so far as can be determined. It occurred on a straight stretch of track where the view is unobstructed. Thrown a long distance by the engine, the woman was picked up and rushed to Mercy hospital where she is being attended by Dr. W. C. Palmer, Northwestern road physician. The woman's husband is employed by J. P. Cullen & Son.

Japs Plan Big Cut in Army

[By Associated Press.] Tokyo.—Sharp cuts in the army program were announced Tuesday a day after the approval of a naval schedule which lopped off 13,335 tons from fleet plans. Recogonizing plans for a reduction of the army by 26,000 enlisted men, p. cut of more than 20 percent, were voted by the war office and approved by the cabinet.

Decreases in the ranks will effect a saving estimated of 205,000,000 yen and 12 years and 23,000,000 yen thereafter.

Heavy artillery corps will be increased slightly as will railway, telegraph and aviation sections, and infantry will be supplied with a larger number of machine guns, with resultant expenditure of 23,000,000 yen over a 13 year period.

Delavan Wins Before 10,000

Four youths were arraigned on the charge of stealing a quart of milk from a Fourth ward residence Wednesday morning. The boys were in their own way to the circus come in and stated that they took it "for the fun of it." They were dismissed after a lecture by Judge Macdonald.

The juvenile cases of R. C. Imhoff and son, Elmer, against Mrs. Lelia Kinney were dismissed by Judge Macdonald. The court costs were paid by the Imhoffs.

The average cost for such service in other parts of the state is estimated to be about $12 per year.

THOUSANDS JOIN IN CELEBRATIONS AT MANY POINTS

LOCAL OBSERVANCE OF 4TH AT RIVERSIDE IS SUCCESS.

MANY ON TRIPS Tourist Travel Is Heavy—Many at Whitewater and Delavan.

Great celebrations in Southern Wisconsin towns and the greatest day for automobile traffic this year featured the celebration of Independence day.

A steady stream of cars bearing thousands of most every state in the northwest came through Janesville Tuesday going in all directions and leaving clouds of paraphernalia and considerable dust. The parade started at daybreak and continued until midnight. Included in the "motorists" were hundreds of Janesville parties who transferred their residence for the day to the city and lakes, resorts and amusement parks in Illinois and Wisconsin. Auxiliaries to the automobile in the transportation problem were the railroads and interurbans which enjoyed an extra large amount of business.

It was a quiet Fourth in Janesville, devoid of any great display but with an attraction for most everyone. At Riverside the celebration, under the auspices of the River City band was very successful with hundreds of family picnic parties. The prize cake was won by Mrs. R. O. Wright, Western avenue. The band furnished music throughout the day and the concession stand was crowded with wives of band members. Jolly skating and dancing was enjoyed.

Few Fireworks Here. There was not even the usual amount of fireworks here, most of the noisier ones having been eliminated through the work of fire inspectors. The number of minor casualties were therefore greatly reduced and physicians observed a peaceful day.

Several minor auto accidents occurred but the number was small in comparison with the procession of automobiles on the highways. With little rain within the past ten days and the heavy holiday traffic, roads were dusty and some of the main trunk routes, automobile travel threw up a dust screen rivaling anything seen in the world war.

The celebrations given in other cities in this section of the country rivaled in grandeur anything seen in the much larger towns. Foremost among these was a party at Whitewater which attracted a crowd estimated at between 5,000 and 6,000. Two thousand automobiles were parked in and around Whitewater. Some of the most beautiful floats in the parade in the morning. Nearly every merchant and organization in Whitewater and some from the surrounding townships showed up in a parade of fire fighting apparatus. The oldest piece was a hand pumper from Harvard which was used to pour considerable water on the fire started by O'Leary's cow in Chicago in 1871. Assistant Attorney General John P. Baker, Madison, made the main address. In the afternoon occurred a baseball game between Whitewater and Palmyra won by the former 6-4. There were races Continued on page 5.

Expert to Aid in War Against Crop Diseases

R. B. Vaughan, plant pathologist from the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, and County Agent R. T. Gilchrist, have been called to investigate in Rock county Thursday to aid farmers having crop diseases and plant trouble.

"Any farmer having troublesome crops should call to the county agent Thursday and we will attempt to visit all farmers where there are serious losses," said Mr. Gilchrist.

Much of the clover in Rock county is covered with a fine white colored dust or mildew, declared to be caused by dry weather. Authorities declare it does not materially harm the clover except to make it dusty for feeding. Rain is apparent in spring wheat. Rain is needed for all crops.

Despite dry weather, crop conditions in Rock county are favorable. Much wheat and clover is in the shock and the crops headed out well with good quality and yield. Corn never looked better at a corresponding time. The hay crop is only fair and many farmers are encountering trouble in obtaining sufficient help.

PASTOR CLERK OF DELAVAN BOARD

OLD GUARD SET FOR CALIFORNIA PRIMARY FIGHT

San Francisco.—Hiram Johnson, United States senator from California, is to have republican opposition to his return to Washington.

Following a meeting here of more than two score Old Guard republican leaders from all over the state, the California republican party, former head of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition and head of the California State Council of Defense, declared its intention to oppose Johnson.

Aligned with those who pledged their support to Moore are numerous supporters of Herbert Hoover in his fight against Johnson in 1920 for the California nomination for president.

Moore's consent to enter the lists against Senator Johnson was obtained after he had refused to return to California and was assured of the support of the Harding administration forces if he would consent to run.

Among those who attended the meeting which resulted in Moore, being chosen a candidate were: Chester Rowell, former strong progressive adherent of Johnson; Edward A. Dickson, once a Johnson lieutenant in the California campaign; and now editor of a Los Angeles newspaper; T. C. Gregory, who was prominent in Hoover's disastrous fight against Johnson; and John D. Baker, Madison, former head of the republican party or active in Hoover's fight against Johnson three years ago.

There were athletic games and the county baseball team won a decisive victory over the Janesville Chicago club team.

Rock county was complimented by the state president for its progressive spirit in farm organization work.

Farm Bureau Work. "The United States as compared to the farm line," declared President McKerrrow, "if we as Americans steer a sane and rational course as is wished by the bulk of farmers, we will prosper. If we follow foolishness to excess, we will certainly go down."

"The farmers pay 50 percent of the freight bill and the Pittsburgh supply system is a serious detriment to agriculture. We know that the American Farm Bureau will soon kill this deal."

"Through organized work we have a bloc which really works for the farmer, and it is getting service. This bloc was organized in the American Farm Bureau office and represents a power for the American farmer. Such legislation as the packer or food bill, putting a dirt soil farmer on the reserve board, lower rates were put over by this bloc and laws detrimental to farming were likewise killed," stated President McKerrrow.

Metter Marketing. Both speakers urged adopting cooperative marketing. The success of regulated marketing in Denmark was pointed out. "The farmer in the United States receives only about 37 cents out of the consumer's dollar, while in Denmark the farmer receives 65 to 75 cents out of the dollar. We should at least get 50 cents on every dollar for our products and the only way to get it is by cooperation and sticking to a common organization," urged the speaker.

"We are going ahead on our marketing problems in Rock county. We expect to have a tobacco pool and then our marketing organization," urged the speaker.

J. P. T. O'Connor, democratic nominee, will oppose Prazer for senate in North Dakota, practically complete returns show. McKerrrow, manager of Spaulding hat factory and old time associate of "Cap" Anson, died Tuesday.

RIVER SIX INCHES ABOVE U. S. MARK

Rock river is six inches above the government mark, according to A. W. Woodworth, chief engineer of a Janesville Electric company. The river is falling rapidly, but up to recently no trouble was experienced by the Electric trouble in securing power.

Justice Lange Away. Justice of the Peace Charles Lange, Haybe Blew, is spending a ten-day vacation. He intends to return to his office July 10.

Consignees Lose All Interest in Confiscated Rum

[By Associated Press.] Philadelphia.—Genuine "Gordon" gin and "Johnny Walker" whiskey is going begging here for less than a dollar a quart. The federal district attorney and United States marshal have met with little luck in their efforts to peddle the load of liquors which prohibition agents had seized.

A bill of $500 is due the railroad for freight and ice, and it is up to the government to pay it. The parties to whom the car was consigned declared they had no idea who shipped the liquor to them.

They wanted all interest in it. A representative of the United States attorney had been going the rounds trying to sell the whiskey.

ULTIMATUM GIVEN ST. PAUL SHOPMEN ON STRIKE HERE

RETURN JULY 10 OR LOSE SENIORITY, IS EDICT.

SITUATION QUIET Nobody Hired at Shops of Either Line; Comment on Action Withheld.

An ultimatum to Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul striking shop employees, that they must return to their jobs before July 10, was the newest development Wednesday in the railroad situation in Janesville.

It was also said Wednesday that two civil engineers from the Milwaukee headquarters of the C. M. & St. P. had arrived here and were at work in the local car repair shops.

The St. Paul notice to the strikers was sent here by Superintendent J. A. MacDonald, Madison. It was written by President H. E. Byram. It reads:

"The United States Labor board has authorized cancellation of all contracts with labor organizations now on strike."

"All striking employees reporting for work on or before July 10 will retain their seniority and the seniority of those who are accepted for service will date from the time their applications are accepted. The existing wages and working conditions as established will be continued."

"I hope all our former employees will take advantage of this opportunity to secure their old positions and seniority."

No comment was forthcoming from the C. M. & St. P. The shop men met at 5 p. m. Wednesday at their headquarters in Eagles annex.

Everything remains quiet at both the St. Paul and the Chicago & Northwestern shops. No men have been hired at either place.

Senator Lenroot Attacks Excessive Tariff Duties and Warns Senators

[By Associated Press.] Washington.—Majority leaders in charge of the tariff bill, were warned Wednesday in the senate by Senator Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin, a leader of the progressive group, that unless some of the high duties provided in the tariff bill were brought down to within reason, "he would reserve the right to vote against the measure."

Senator Lenroot's announcement came at the close of an address on the floor of the senate on the tariff bill of 12 cents a pound on unshelled almonds, which he declared to be unjustified on the showing both of Senators Johnson and Shortridge, republicans, California, and of the Almond Growers' association of California in favor of the rate.

"I want to resolve all doubts in favor of this bill," Senator Lenroot said. "But if such rates as this are to be voted into this bill, I will not vote for it."

The Wisconsin senator said he was in favor of protection, but added that he had "no sympathy with the system that seems to prevail here that if the interests of a particular state are at stake, the senator from that state can go and ask for and receive those duties and then, because of the interrelationship of duties throughout the bill, that senator will vote for every increase proposed."

Hiram Samps Reply. Senator Johnson, in a reply to the Wisconsin senator, declared he was casting his vote as a republican, not as a protectionist, and that he was selling at a loss, and candy manufacturers, who making 300 percent profits and fighting the rate on almonds.

Senator Lenroot denied candy manufacturers were making any such profits, declaring an inquiry he made last year in connection with the tax revision law showed their profits were only 10 percent. He declared Senator Johnson could not deny the almond growers of California had never had the unshelled almond market in this country they were now demanding be given to them through the enactment of a high tariff by congress.

"If this rate is written 'into the bill,' the Wisconsin senator continued, "it will be one republican party cannot justify."

Demanding the committee rate as justified, Senator Shortridge said it was to be regretted that Senator Lenroot expected to abandon his party on the tariff bill, but "he will survive." He added the prophecy that the Wisconsin senator would not carry out his implied threat to abandon this bill.

Badger Vote "No." The tariff amendment carrying the 15 cents a pound rate on almonds finally was approved 35 to 15. Two republicans, LaFollette and Lenroot, voted against it, and three democrats, Ashurst, Broadhead and Kendrick, supported it. An amendment by Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, to make the rate six cents a pound, was rejected, 41 to 13. Senator LaFollette was the only republican to support it, while two democrats, Ashurst and Kendrick, voted against it.

75 PCT. SIGN FOR TOBACCO POOL

Final Check Shows 90 Pct. Record in Chief Tobacco Districts.

A complete check shows that 4,600 of the 7,000 acres of tobacco raised in Rock county in 1920 is on the five-year contract books of the Northern Wisconsin Tobacco Growers' association. The association estimated that fully 75 percent of the tobacco planted this season in Rock is in the proposed pool.

Directors of the association will meet Tuesday morning in the office of the Wisconsin department of markets to hear the final reports of the campaign. In event the association representatives find 90 percent of the acreage is under the five year contract, the pool will be formed at once, to handle the 1922 crop. The 1920 acreage is being used as the basis for comparison with the 1921 acreage. Statistics for that year, a check will also be made on the 1922 acreage and the amount the farmers have on their farms or in the local warehouses which they wish the state pool to sell.

90 Pct. in Porter. In Porter township where Dennis McCarthy had charge of the campaign, 92 percent of the tobacco acreage is on the contract books. Fulton under the Willis Scofield and John Mussul turned in contract books having more than 90 percent. These two townships produce about one half the tobacco raised in Rock county. All the contract books have county status, and they are not returned to Eugene C. Henningsway, secretary of the Rock county tobacco pool, who may be checked as to the total acreage may be increased.

Average Reduced One-Third. Evidence obtained during the campaign show that Rock county average has been reduced one-third. A number have fully one-third of their tobacco acreage growing. Only in a few instances have growers increased the acreage. About the same reduction was reported in the other tobacco growing districts in Wisconsin.

Whether the pool is to be closed or held open for additional signers will be determined at the meeting on Friday. In event the pool is not declared closed, it is expected 1922 crop or better, it is expected they will close the pool. Rock county growers declare that if the pool is not declared closed, the pool will be closed. The pool is not declared closed.

ENTENTE BETWEEN CONGRESS GROUPS, AIM OF PRESIDENT MUST BE ABLE TO WELD BLOCS, ATTITUDE OF HARDING.

SEEKS SOLIDARITY Necessity for Groups Within Party Recognized by Executive, However.

By DAVID LAWRENCE, Copyright, 1922, by The Janesville Gazette.

Washington—President Harding has announced a new interpretation of the group or bloc system in congress. The president has recognized as inevitable the development of group to champion particular measures and to have the objection to the activity they may show in putting their legislative proposals through congress. But he has made it plain that the test as to the sincerity of any group or bloc will depend entirely upon the power that group uses in getting its proposals through congress. It is not of national value, in other words, the farm bloc is not fundamentally dispirited, Mr. Harding has efficient party organization so that the party leaders would be qualified to give detailed attention to the interests of every section of the country. But in the case of agricultural states are likely to look at things from much the same viewpoint whether they are farmers or Democrats. So long as what the farm bloc demands, however, are in line with the national interest, Mr. Harding feels that it should have the fullest support of the executive branch of government. The reduction of freight rates, and kindred reforms, have for their objective a prosperous agricultural community, and this in turn means prosperity for all those industries which sell goods to the farmer.

Harding Explains Views
Mr. Harding was moved to explain his views just the other day in addressing privately some of the representatives of farm organizations and farm journals. The president was anxious to try to overcome the opposition of agricultural members of congress to the ship subsidy bill. This opposition, has been traditional and is due largely to the fact that the inland sections of the country are not interested directly in maritime affairs. In the rural districts, the expenditure of money for ships has always seemed an extravagance. The president, however, is tackling the subject of shipping from a broader aspect than the mere improvement of conditions in seaport cities. He insists that the farmer is directly interested in the national shipbuilding program, which as an illustration the large sums of money appropriated by congress for good roads—something which the farmer particularly has wanted—Mr. Harding declared that a merchant marine, properly developed for America, means "good roads on the seas." Mr. Harding is emphasizing the fact that shipping routes controlled by America will mean cheaper transportation for America's products than in the routes controlled by foreigners.

The relationship between low prices for American farm products and high transportation rates on the ocean is also in Mr. Harding's argument. He says, for example, that if the American farmer can not export his surplus because of the high ocean freight rates, it will mean the dumping of that surplus in the home market and consequently lower prices inside the United States for these same agricultural products. The ship subsidy question depends largely for its solution on the attitude of the farm bloc. The president from now on will say to that bloc that he believes they should support the legislation desired by another class whenever that legislation is in the national interest. Otherwise the farm bloc will forfeit the sympathy of the rest of the country when their own measures of national interest are being debated. It is not in a bargaining spirit that the administration approaches the farm bloc and courts its support for the ship subsidy bill, but it is an attempt to apply the golden rule to party groups.

Understand Bloc Systems
Everybody, including the president, has a better understanding today of the why and wherefore of the bloc system in congress than a year ago. The outbursts of the representatives in congress of particular sections of the country are recognized as due largely to the absence of broad and all-embracing leadership. It is due also to the transition period in republican affairs. The passing of the old leaders coincides with the arrival from the west of new members who have not the same faith in the effectiveness of party conference and party leadership as the old timers have had. What Mr. Harding hopes to do is to establish an entente between the numerous groups in congress so that the majority of them can gradually be brought together in frequent conference and thus welded into a party unit again. More shouting against the bloc or group system has proved futile chiefly because the alternative—party organization—offered no better opportunity to achieve results. Mr. Harding is endeavoring to convert symptoms of disorderly evolution into processes of orderly evolution. His friendly words to the farm representatives are significant of a conciliatory disposition in marked contrast to the hostile terms of his recent messages to congress in which he played the bloc system. The president has found in the ship subsidy problem an extraordinary opportunity to bring special groups into harmony for the national interest. If he succeeds in making the next test of every measure sponsored by a special group, the question of whether the measure would benefit the whole country directly or indirectly, he will have discovered the leverage which will do so effectively with the numerous proposals of narrow and limited worth as contrasted with those likely to be of nationwide value.

HER WILD NIGHT RIDES WITH OTHERS BROKE UP OUR BETROTHAL," SAYS DOCTOR.

Miss Beatrice Fajlian.

Wild joy rides by night, gay revels by day, now and then passionate embraces between men and maids—all of these combined to undo the work of Dan Cupid and as a result Dr. Harry M. Malejan, Detroit physician, is defendant in a $50,000 breach of promise action brought by Miss Beatrice Fajlian, Troy, N. Y. Malejan says he broke the engagement after he learned that Miss Fajlian indulged in all of the above in and outdoor sports. She denies the charges.

THOUSANDS JOIN

Ten thousand people were at the Tilden farm near Delavan Tuesday where the annual picnic under the auspices of the Walworth Federated clubs was held. Rev. W. T. Howard, Presbyterian pastor of Milwaukee gave a brilliant address. A great program of music was given by the Holton-Elkhorn band throughout the day. Robert Diller, of Beloit, sang several solos and led the community singing. Bradley Knitting Mills nine of Delavan defeated Lake Geneva 5-1. Considerable interest in the contests and games was shown.

The baseball games between the Crescents and the Janesville Black Cats was the drawing attraction at the celebration at Milton village celebration. Contests for children were held with prizes being donated by merchants. Jefferson, Port Atkinson, Genoa Junction, Burlington, and East Troy had celebrations which were attended by those living in the surrounding territory.

Many At Resorts.
Hotel resorts at Lake Geneva, Delavan, Laidersdale, Como, Koshkonong, Kogonsa and others in this section were filled to overflowing over the four days which closed on Tuesday. Chicago, Milwaukee and Rockford people composed the majority at these places. At Vinton Lake near Lake Geneva the Fourth marked the opening of a new golf course fostered by Ralph Shinnars, Chicago millionaire. The celebration at Edgerton centered around the opening of the newly constructed country club.

For those living in the northern section of Jefferson and the southern portion of Dodge counties, the homecoming celebration at Watertown the past three days was the sole attraction of the Fourth. A comic and floral parade was held in the morning, with a mounted contest between Troop D of Watertown and Troop F of Port Atkinson. Daylight fireworks displays were shown. In the evening a great illuminated floral and industrial parade was staged with more than 20 floats participating. Music was given by three bands.

Along Rock River.
Amusement parks and beaches along Rock river were crowded by the holiday crowds. The Rockford and Laidersdale company was forced to put on an extra car toward midnight to bring back to Janesville the crowd which attended the celebration at the Central Park Gardens. A wonderful fireworks display was held at Watertown and East Troy's beach and Yost's park there were many picnic parties. Large trucks of Janesville concerns were used to transport large crowds.

CIRCUS MEN HONOR
"SCRATCH" HOGANGather for Memorial Services
at Grave of Janesville Man.

Pausing from their work of making others happy, 20 members of the Patterson circus which is showing Wednesday night at the old Burr Robbins grounds, gathered in Mt. Olivet cemetery Wednesday afternoon and paid tribute to Frank ("Scratch") Hogan, late member of the great fraternity of circus people. All the 20 men knew the Janesville man in life when he was with the Barnum and Bailey and Barnum, Bailey and Ringling circuses. He acquired a place in their regard akin to love.

With the circus band playing a dirge, large floral wreaths were placed on the grave of Hogan, son of the late Chief of Police John Hogan, as these people, while whom people could only the gayest things in life bowed their heads in prayer. Photographs were taken of the last resting place of young Hogan.

The Patterson employees thereby secured a custom which it is believed will be ever maintained by visiting circuses in Janesville. Janesville will be perpetuated in the memory of the circus world as the last resting place of Frank Hogan.

The long train of the circus steamed into Janesville on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad from Plattville Wednesday morning, bringing 500 persons, 300 horses and a great menagerie of "beasts of the jungle." Old circus fans of Janesville who were on hand to see the unloading and moving to the circus grounds on Eastern avenue and Belmont road, declared the equipment to be the best ever here in years with the exception of Ringling Brothers. The circus has many wonderful horses.

Shortly after the big top was erected, the parade on Academy street to Milwaukee, through the downtown section and out Main street, began. Crowds lined the downtown streets during the noon hour. The afternoon performance was held at 2 p. m. and the evening show will be at 8 p. m. From Janesville, the Patterson circus goes to Richland Center. It is the first year the circus has been out in Wisconsin under Mr. Patterson's direction, but is drawing large crowds wherever it appears. Russian, French, Japanese, Arabian, Chinese and American troupes perform in the two rings and there are many wonderful animals and aerial acts to delight the crowds.

NOTICE
Threshermen of Rock county will hold their Annual Meeting at West Side Odd Fellow's hall, Saturday, July 8, at 8 p. m., for purpose of electing officers or other business that may come before the meeting. Farmers are also invited.

are valued customers of ours. Their training makes them appreciate the necessity of right habits, such as the habit of saving a little. They know that when they draw a small salary they must save a little bit regularly; thus they establish the habit of saving, and, as their salary increases, the money begins to pile up.

It is simply a matter of business with the office girls; compound interest and time work wonders, and when they finally achieve a glorious independence, the effort that it cost seems trivial.

At the Villa Rose

BY A. E. W. MASON

SYNOPSIS OF VILLA ROSE.
Celia Harland is companion to Mme. Dauvray of the Villa Rose. She meets Harry Weathermill at the Casino at Aix. He is a detective, is engaged to a girl named Marie. He is in the Villa Rose and discovers the jewels which are supposed to have been taken from the room of Mme. Dauvray. Celia is traced to Geneva, the auto in which she fled having been found. Celia's forehead is marked, showing hatred for Celia, is believed to have been one of the conspirators in the murder of the young woman. He receives an answer from a Marthe Gobin at Geneva and she is on her way to Aix. She arrives and dies in the cab. Harland finds that she has been killed by a man who has been in the Villa Rose. He is deeply in love with the girl. The net is closing in on Mme. Dauvray. She is taken to a house where she is held prisoner and about to be killed. Harry Weathermill announces to the astonished Harland that Harry Weathermill has been arrested for the murder of Mme. Dauvray and Marthe Gobin.

He felt for the knot under the broad brim of her hat at the back of her head. He found it. In a moment she would be free. She kept her head quite still, and then—why was he so long? she asked herself. Oh, it was not possible! But her heart seemed to stop, and she knew that it was not only possible, but that it was true. The folds bound her lips more surely. She felt the ends drawn close at the back of her head. In a frenzy she tried to shake her head free. But he held her face firmly and finished his work. He was wearing gloves, she noticed with horror, just as thieves do. Then his hand slid down her trembling arm and rested on the wrist. There was something horribly deliberate about his movements.

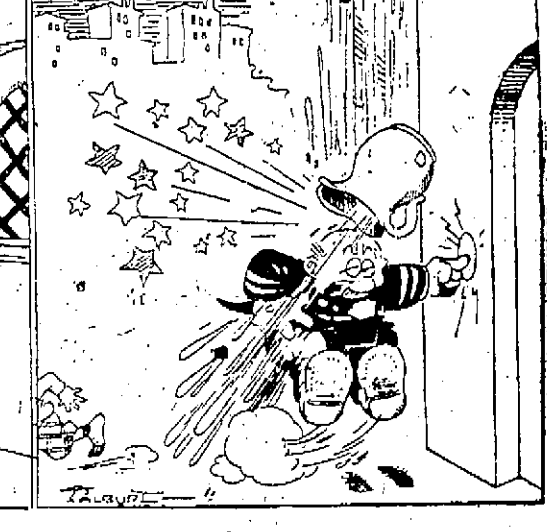

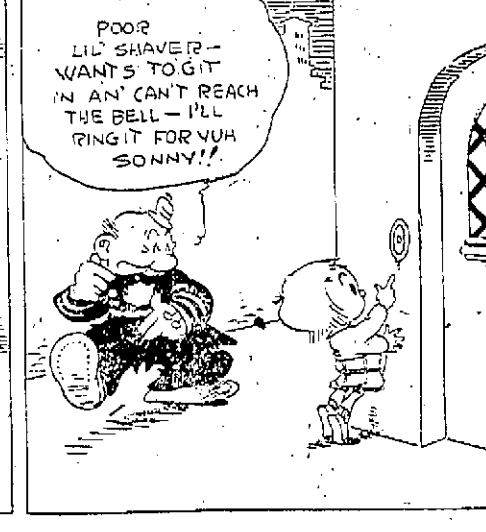

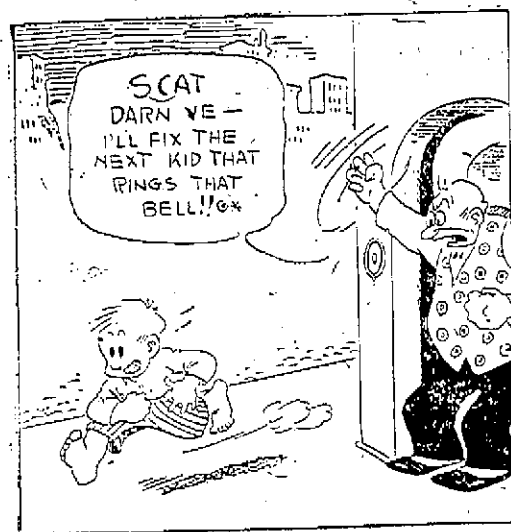

Celia, at that moment, even with him, had the sensation which was possessed her in the agony. It was the personal equation on which she was used to rely. But neither Adele nor this stranger was considering her as even a human being. She was a pawn in their game, and they used her, careless of her terror, her beauty, her pain. Then he freed from her waist the long cord which ran beneath the curtain to Adele Rossignol's foot.

Celia's first thought was one of relief. He would jerk the cord unwittingly. They would come into the recess and see him. And then the result flashed in upon her. He had jerked the cord, but he had jerked it deliberately. He was already winding it up in a coil as it slid noiselessly across the polished floor beneath the curtain to Adele Rossignol. All that woman's scepticism and precaution against trickery had been a mere blind, under cover of which she had been able to pack the girl away securely without arousing her suspicions.

Helen Vanquiere was in the plot, too. The scarf at Celia's mouth was proof of that. As if to add proof to proof, he had jerked Adele Rossignol's scarf in answer to the signal. "Are you all ready? Have you got Mme. Dauvray's left hand, Helen?" "Yes, madame," answered the maid. "And I have her right hand. And I give you, and thus we are in a circle about the table."

Celia, in her mind, could see them knave," said Sammy Squirrel. "If he had wanted you to go with him he would have said so, wouldn't he? I guess you are no better than the other folks of the forest, and if you know when you are wrong you will say where you are until you are called."

Mr. Weasel seemed to be very jolly. He was out gathering some straws and I saw Mr. Weasel and Mr. Froggy walking along together. It startled me at first till Froggy croaked. "How-do-you-do, and then I knew that nothing was wrong. Mr. Weasel seemed to be very jolly. I supposed they were on good terms and I flew away about my business."

"That sounds very strange," said Tinker Bob. "But if you saw it, Mr.

Robin, I will have to believe it."

Tinker Bob went back to the Palace thinking about how it could be possible for Froggy and Mr. Weasel to walk and talk together.

"Why, yes," said the crafty old gentleman, carefully concealing the title of the best seller he had in his hand. "This is a book on relativity. Now, if you have an hour or two to spare,

I'll explain the theory to you, so—

Betty, who is four, had been scolded by auntie for some misdemeanor, and her feelings were badly hurt. She kept referring to the matter, and saying to auntie, "All right for you, I don't care for you any more."

"Finally auntie retorted: 'Well, all right for you, then. If you don't care about me any more I won't need to get that ice cream cone I intended to buy you.'"

Betty looked abashed for a moment. She did not wish to bend so far as to accept a bribe, but she disliked to lose that ice cream cone.

Then her face brightened with a happy thought. "Oh—uh—April fool!" she said, triumphantly.

Elizabeth, aged six, went to visit her grandmother in the country for the first time. To her amusement grandma took off her hair and laid it on the bureau. After that she took out her teeth and put them in a glass of water. Elizabeth's eyes could not open so wide as she excitedly exclaimed: "Oh, grandma! Do let me see you take out your tongue!"

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON.

Letters May Be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young woman twenty-eight years old. I have been very fond of gentlemen friends, but circumstances have prevented me from having any. I feel that I am becoming old and I long for some one to love and care for me.

There is a young man that works in the town where I live that I am very fond of. I have never met this boy, but I have heard of him. He is the one man intended for me. He works in a confectionery store and always waits on me when I go in there.

Do you think there would be anything wrong in my introducing myself to him and asking him to come to see me? I feel that each of us would bring much happiness to the other if we only had the chance.

DESPERATE.
It is not your place to introduce yourself and to ask the man to come to see you. Meet him the accretion and almost always he rejects it when a woman takes the first step in becoming acquainted or after the introduction runs after him.

There are many lonely women in this world who have to walk alone. Very often it is because they are too reserved and cannot meet the man half way. Nevertheless they are true to themselves, and act as their natures demand. A woman with a nature that is too reserved should try to become more radiant and be more cordial. I do not think, however, that she should go more than half way to make the acquaintance of a man. If it is her lot to walk alone through life she should do so bravely.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: About two years ago I made the acquaintance of several nice boys and girls through a friend. Since then they have invited me to several social occasions, but something has always come up to prevent my going to them. A short time ago one of them gave me an invitation to a party, but owing to the bad weather I couldn't go. Later one of my classmates told me that they had been postponed, but they had never told me anything about it. I am beginning to think they have really had it but are tired of inviting me since I never can attend.

I am planning to have a party soon but I don't know whether to invite them or not since I think they will not come anyway, when I could not attend their parties. Please advise me what to do.

EFFING.
Invite the young people to whom you are under obligations even if they do not attend your party. In that way you may square yourself for not attending their parties. They realize then that your motive was not to cut them.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a bride. My husband has some bad table manners such as leaning over his food and not passing things. How can I correct him in a kind way?

RUTH.
Tell your husband that you know you have faults and that you would consider it a kindness if he told you about them. Ask him if he will tell you some of your faults in exchange for two or three little things you would like to tell him. Impress it upon him that his faults are minor, but you know he wants to get rid of them just as you want to get rid of yours. Do not mention this when at the table. Wait until a propitious opportunity presents itself during your evening together.

ONE STRICK A NIGHT
"MAKES TABLE TALK BRIGHT."

TO BALANCE A COIN ON THE POINT OF A NEEDLE
This little feat may require some practice but after mastering it, it is very amusing to perform.

Cork a bottle, and force the eye of a needle into the cork, perpendicularly, leaving more than half the needle protruding. Cut a slit in the bottom of another cork and insert in this a coin, edgewise. Then stick two forks in the second cork, on either side, taking care to get them directly opposite one another. Now place the coin on the point of the needle and it will immediately balance.

You may now take the upper cork between your thumb and forefinger and spin it around as fast as you please, and the coin will not fall from the needle.
